

Key Points about The Greater Dayton Disaster Relief Fund

- The Foundation currently is processing donations that are coming into the fund and assessing needs with key nonprofit organizations and leadership in communities that have been affected by the devastating tornadoes.
- While grants already have been distributed to nonprofit organizations that are on the ground addressing immediate needs in these communities, we also are assessing what long-term future needs individuals impacted by the tornadoes may need to rebuild and recover.
- We have decided to waive the credit card processing fee for the Greater Dayton Disaster Relief Fund, so that 100% of the money will go to vetted nonprofit organizations that helping victims. (Please note that the waived credit card fee only applies to this fund.)
